

A photograph showing a dissected frog heart on a white plate. The heart is dark red and glistening, with several pinkish-red legs or structures extending from it. To the left of the heart is a golden-brown, fried dumpling-like object. The plate is covered with a light-colored liquid, possibly water or a saline solution, and some orange-colored residue. The text "Laura Gaiser" is overlaid in the center of the image.

Laura Gaiser

